LAWYER PARR JOLTS SIERRA MADRE OUT OF BALDWIN AREA DREAM

Protest Meeting Before County Board Checked By Syndicate Attorney

THERE will be no annexation of former Baldwin ranch property to Sierra Madre. And that settles that. What settled it inevitably was the statement made by P. A. Parr, attorney for the syndicate that has taken over the old ranch, that if the property—formerly under the jurisdiction of the county—was not incorporated in Arcadia it would never be permitted (by its present owners) to be incorporated in the City of Sierra Madre.

This statement, which sounded unnecessarily brusque to Sierra Madre ears, was made before a meeting of the County Board of Supervisors on Monday morning.

A representative delegation of Sierra Madre citizens, headed by City Business Manager Al Myers and the City Attorney, Phil Dodson, had gone down to the county seat to file a protest against the proposed annexation of the area in question to Arcadia. Their errand proved to be in vain from the outset when a member of the county legal staff—evidently prepared for the question in advance—decided that, legally, any protest against the pending action should have been presented, before the hearing, in writing. In other words, oral protests were "out."

Still, Supervisor Legg, presiding officer of the Board, extended the courtesy of an oral protest to Sierra Madre's City Attorney. The local delegation afterward agreed that none could have expressed the local attitude better.

"All that Sierra Madre seeks now," said Mr. Dodson, "or has ever sought, is to live in perfect amity and to show nothing but goodwill to any of its neighbors. This has been eminently the case, and obvious in all our close and intricately involved relations with our neighbor to the south, the city of Arcadia."

"But now Arcadia," he continued, "proposes to incorporate this portion of the county territory lying immediately to the south of Sierra Madre, thus shutting off our city in perpetuity from access to Foothill Boulevard."

"It is not, however," Mr. Dodson further explained, "this injustice that Sierra Madre protests so much as it is against the possible injustice to the future residents of the area in dispute. Already the home-builders in this section are wholly dependent on Sierra Madre for all public services, such as water, lights, streets, police and fire protection. This puts them in the false position of being nominal residents of one town and actually residents of another. The town that does not serve them will receive their taxes and yet can guarantee them no return."

In closing, Mr. Dodson assured such potential residents, if any were present or should otherwise be apprised of their situation, that Sierra Madre always stood ready to be the good neighbor to them and meet their needs ungrudgingly in every possible way.

Mr. Parr's sharp statement as to what "the owners" would not do if the proposed Arcadia annexation were denied, sounded considerably sharper, coming as it did after Mr. Dodson's well-managed speech.

Reckless Driving Charges Draw Stiff Fine For Worker

Pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving, Anthony Martin, tunnel worker of 290 West Highland avenue, last Thursday in Pasadena Justice Court was given a sentence of $500 or 200 days. Martin crashed into a car driven by Mrs. Vera Anna Biely, 432 Mariposa avenue, at Baldwin and Highland avenues, March 3. Riding with Mrs. Biely was Mrs. Elizabeth M. Page, 67, of 153 South Hermosa avenue, who suffered a broken hip and injury to her back.

Sentence was suspended on condition that Martin pay Mrs. Page $50 a month until all her expenses resulting from the accident were paid off.

Kerr's books list 962 Republicans and 962 Democrats—an even-Steven proposition for which some 300 Republicans, as yet unregistered, can take the credit. Unless these dilatory Republicans get their names on the rolls before next Thursday, March 26, Sierra Madre will in all likelihood pump down squarely in the Democratic column this year.

According to Kerr's figures, total local registrations to date are: Republican, 962; Democratic, 962; Socialist, 20; Progressive, 1. Declined to state, 163.

There are no Commonwealth or Communist party adherents. Interesting, by way of comparison, are figures for the November 6, 1934 election. These were: Republican, 1204; Democratic, 963; Socialist, 19; Progressive, 1; Commonwealth, 10; Declined to state, 132.

That there is an imminent change in the social and economic set-up of the United States—a progressive movement which must succeed in the course of a very few years—became the text for a talk by H. Jerry Voorhis, of San Dimas, Tuesday night, before the Sierra Madre Forum. The prediction was made by Mr. Leland J. Fogg of Sierra Madre, who introduced the speaker of the evening.

An appreciative audience, one that filled the auditorium of the City Hall, applauded both Mr. Fogg's introduction and Mr. Voorhis—the latter repeatedly during his 50-minute address.

Mr. Voorhis contended that change is inevitable anyway, regardless of one's political or economic convictions. It is a part of Creation itself, he said, and it is only by an earnest search for the truth that we can hope to pattern tomorrow to a fair measure of what we seek. The speaker titled his address "The Place of the Liberal in the Present Crisis in America."

In a general way, he said the answer to the question implied in this subject was to know what democracy is and to maintain it. This meant a freedom of expression to all minorities. And, in passing, he said that we might well follow the example of our British cousins in this respect, who, for example, set aside large sections of the city of London expressly for the purpose of free discussion, whatever the views or however small the minority of the group wishing to express its views.

But specifically, Mr. Voorhis said, all liberals in the present crisis should look to a coalescence of their views rather than each group seeking to enforce a hard and fast doctrine of its own on others not wholly in agreement.

The audience, applauded with manifest enthusiasm when he declared that no nation can ever move happily forward and simply leave a quarter or more of its population in the discard.

His faith was firm, he said, that the problems of today can be solved by the collective intelligence of the people. The part of the liberal, therefore, is to call together and unite the 98 percent of the people who desire nothing more than social justice—the thing that is now sought by every liberal movement in the United States or the world.

"We've been trying to solve our problems without changing the conditions that brought those problems upon us," he said, "and this is impossible. We have got to know that we will change in spite of ourselves, then know that we can right the errors of present conditions. And if we can't find the political vehicle, the party, to help us, then we must get a new one."

Republican Registration Here Lagging

Tied With Democrats Now
And 300 Behind Peak
Reached In 1934

With approximately 300 Sierra Madre Republicans still unregistered, judging by figures for the November 6, 1934 election which showed a Republican total of 1204 as against 963 Democrats, figures for this year's City election just released by Registrar of Voters W. M. Kerr showed a neck-to-neck race between local voters of the two major political parties.

The fundamental and immediate necessity, he said, was to retrieve the Nation's control over its financial system so that the Government will no longer be in the situation of "buying its own credit," that is, selling its bonds to private banking institutions, then paying these institutions interest for money which these institutions issue solely on the basis of these bonds. The Government itself, the speaker maintained, should issue the money and be the recipient of interest for loans.

Plan Fishing Trip And Other Tours For School Children

Under the supervision of the WPA County Recreation bureau a deep sea fishing trip will be the first of a series of recreational projects for Sierra Madre school children, according to Mrs.
E. Kenney, who is in charge of this WPA activity in this territory.

April 6th is the date set for the fishing trip and the cost is 25 cents, which will include bait, tackle, etc. Children, however, are asked to bring their own tackle to avoid a possible shortage. A supervisor for every 15 children will be furnished and any parents who care to go are cordially invited, providing they furnish their own transportation. Other forms of recreation will be announced later.

WISTARIA FESTIVAL ATTRACTS THROG TO FAMOUS FENNEL HILL

Weather And Historic Vine
At Best For Enthusiastic Visitors

THE 1936 edition of Sierra Madre's annual Wistaria Fete made its debut yesterday.

With a minimum of fanfare, in keeping with delicate note set by the lavender blossoms on the vine, the Fete got under way Thursday morning.

It was a perfect day. Following a week of high fogs and chilly mornings, Mother Nature relented. As if in answer to prayers of the Fete committee, the air was balmy, the sun was shining, and over against the slopes of the towering Sierra Madre mountains a blue haze provided a perfect backdrop to the vine's lavender and green beauty.

Promptly at 9 o'clock the first visitors to this year's Fete were ushered through the turnstile by Fire Chief W. D. Richards. They were Mrs. E. Steller of Ft. Madison, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Burt of San Bernardino.

The scene, as they walked through the grounds, was breathtaking. The pink and white roses, intertwined with the vine on the front of the Fennel house, were a riot of bloom, adding to the entrancing picture of the vine itself. Elsewhere, in full bloom, were pale lavender sweet peas, deep yellow and orange gladioli, purple and white iris, scarlet geraniums, snaps in a gorgeous array of colors and beds of prim little pinks. The air was heavy with the scent of wistaria and orange blossoms.

To complement the Fete Sierra Madre was beautifully bedecked in pre-spring garb of flowering fruit trees, garden blossoms and parking blooms.

Laboring for the past week, members of the volunteer fire department, under the generalship of Fire Chief W. D. Richards, have put the Fennel estate grounds in tip-top shape for the influx of visitors from all over Southern California who started pouring into Sierra Madre yesterday to witness the world's largest wistaria.

Day by day the blossoms on the vine have grown more lovely and profuse, the foggy mornings only serving to keep the gorgeous blooms from opening too rapidly.

As usual, the management is serving dainty luncheons in the balmy open air under the twining branches of the vine, with Sierra Madre girls acting as waitresses. Luncheon each day is from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Members of the City Council, editors and publishers of San Gabriel Valley, Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange County newspapers, together with representatives from newspapers in the metropolitan area; prominent Sierra Madreans and residents of valley communities from Claremont to Pasadena will gather on the grounds of the Fennel estate at noon today for a gala open-air luncheon under the flowering vine.

Approximately 100 invitations were sent out by Joseph Swanson, secretary of the Fete committee, and with reservations pouring in this week, today's gathering promises to be the most brilliant opening-day luncheon in the history of the Fete.

L. R. Goshorn, editor and publisher of THE NEWS, will be press host.

During the Fete Mrs. W. D. Richards will handle the tables and decorations; Mrs. James Heasley will be in charge of the waitresses; and Mrs. Lee Hibbs and Mrs. Roy Walsworth will supervise the cooking. Ice cream will be served by Mrs. Margaret

Big Change Must Come Forum Told

Jerry Voorhis Tells Local Assembly Views On Mission Liberals

Issue More Permits For Homes Here

Sierra Madre's home building program is gliding right along, permits being issued at City Hall this week for a new residence, a duplex apartment and a 3-car garage.

H. G. Seifert, of 229 North Hermosa avenue, has been granted a permit for a duplex apartment and a 3-car garage, at 737 West Alegria avenue, at an estimated cost of $5800.

J. W. McLeod, of 265 Morton avenue, has taken out a permit for a residence, to cost $5000, at 265 Morton avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Field, 663 Brookside Lane, have purchased the property at 673 Brookside Lane, formerly owned by J. E. Dennis of Long Beach. The transaction was made through the office of Laura E. Cadmus.

Sponsored by a coalition of architects, builders, government agencies, banking and other groups "a movement to achieve a higher national housing level" has been launched, it is announced by Stephen F. Voorhees, president of the American Institute of Architects.

Plans will be worked out in the Southern California chapter of the institute, and cooperation of other groups in California will be enlisted in what is characterized by the AIA as "this service to society." A major objective is to bring architectural service, hitherto largely confined to costlier structures, into the small house field.

Three million new and four million modernized homes are said to be needed, and it is planned to enlist the entire architectural profession in directing their construction and design," the announcement says.

"The Committee of Economic Recovery, a non-Federal group, is advocating a country-wide home building program. The greatest emphasis is placed on the need of homes in range cost up to $4000.

"Nation-wide industrial corporations are instituting advertising and construction programs based on the certification of quality standards of building. The intention is to build up in this way a public recognition of the increased value of building operations based on sound plans and specifications."

Outstanding in its pristine beauty was the white satin wedding gown of Miss Eleanor Langstaff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Langstaff of Manzanita avenue, to Floyd Kindy of Sierra Madre, at Yuma, Arizona, early Sunday morning, came as a complete surprise to many friends of the young couple.

The bride has resided in Sierra Madre about two years, having come here from Long Beach, where she has a large circle of friends. She is proprietor of the novel book and art store on Sierra Madre Blvd. The groom was formerly engaged in the poultry business in the next building.

They will reside in Sierra Madre.

Allow Funds To Improve School Field

Following a delay of many months, during which time the project was practically given up as a lost cause by the School Board, an application for WPA labor for work on much-needed school grounds improvements has been approved by the Los Angeles WPA office and is now in the hands of the San Francisco headquarters, according to Rudolph Hartman, president of the board.

It is proposed to improve the drainage situation by building retaining walls on the north grounds. In preparation for the work, 100 6-yard loads of dirt have been trucked in from the Grand View avenue tunnel. The dirt will be used to level up the playground on the north side of the school building.

The project also calls for enlarging the tennis court on the east side of the grounds. It will be extended to standard size and will be available for adult use.

Dog Celebrates Friday The 13th By Swiping A Shoe

Friday the thirteenth isn't so lucky for Mrs. Pearl Fisher, of 765 Alta Vista Drive.

While sitting on her front porch Mrs. Fisher decided to try on a new pair of shoes. She took off her slippers and reached for the new shoes. Then things happened. A half-grown pup appeared, snatched up one of the new ones and raced off down the street. Shouts only spurred him to greater speed. When last seen the pup was streaking east. Mrs. Fisher is still minus a shoe.

Sierra Madran Is Held For Injuries To Pasadena Women

Ernest Green, 60, of 449 West Orange Grove avenue, Friday night ran into and injured two Pasadena women in the downtown section of Pasadena. He was arrested for failing to give pedestrians the right of way in a pedestrian lane. Hearing was set for next Tuesday, March 24.

Mrs. Annie Brown, 67, of 45 Millard Court, Pasadena, suffered a dislocation of the right shoulder and injuries about the face. She was sent to the Pasadena Hospital after treatment at the Emergency Hospital. Mrs. Kate Weller, 39, of 375 Mary street, Pasadena, the other victim, was injured about the left hip.

Green was driving west on Walnut street and attempted to turn south into Broadway when the women were struck. They were crossing Broadway from west to east in the pedestrian lane. Officers Whiting and Ross, who investigated, reported that the women were thrown about eight feet and the car stopped quickly, having been moving slowly. Green said he held out his arm for a signal and was keeping his eye on an east-bound automobile and did not see the women until they walked in front of his car.

Sierra Madre On New Route Of The Greyhound Stages

A front porch seat on the route of the Pacific Greyhound inter-state stages is the prospect held out to Sierra Madrans as a result of a recent State Railroad Commission ruling.

Details of new routes to be used by the Pacific Greyhound, Santa Fe and Union Pacific stages, as announced by the commission, show that the Greyhound coaches will be routed through South Pasadena, Sierra Madre, Arcadia, Monrovia, Duarte, Upland, San Bernardino and Barstow.

The Santa Fe stages will go through South Alhambra, El Monte, Pomona, Ontario, Riverside, Colton, Barstow and Needles. Union Pacific stages will be routed through South Alhambra, Colton and San Bernardino.

These routes are for inter-state stages and do not apply to the local bus routes now being considered at the hearing in Los Angeles.

LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER!

INCLUDING today, only six days remain for the registration of voters before the May Presidential primary election. No citizen of California who has not been registered since January first, this year, will be entitled to vote at the primary. More than 300 Sierra Madrans are not enrolled. Unless you have a slip showing your registration this year go to the City Hall and have your name added to the list. Don't be a slacker.

No Candidates In Sight Against Present Officials

That Councilmen John Froehlich and Preston Schwartz, whose terms expire this year and who are candidates for reelection, will be unopposed at the municipal election in April appeared practically certain last night.

No new nominating petitions have been taken out, and inasmuch as petitions must be filed by next Wednesday the election promises to come and go with a minimum of fireworks.

No candidates have yet appeared, either, against City Clerk Waverly Pratt or City Treasurer Carlton Pegler, who have filed papers as candidates to succeed themselves.

While registrations for the municipal election closed March 5, voters have until next Thursday, March 26, to qualify for the May Primary, when delegates who will help select the presidential candidates will be chosen and voters will pass on proposed bond issues for a new county court house and additions and improvements to Olive View Sanatorium. Citizens may register by appearing at the City Hall between 9 and 5 p.m.

Nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy.—1 Tim. vi. 17.

When I survey the occurrences of my life . . . I can perceive nothing but a mass of mercies either in general to mankind or in particular to myself.—Sir T. Browne.

IN THE SIERRA MADRE MANNER

No one could have better expressed Sierra Madre's spirit—toward its own citizens and toward the world in general—than did city attorney Phil Dodson the other day when he told the County Board of Supervisors that the whole desire of this city is to live in peace and amity, to be helpful, generous, loyal to the best interests of all good citizens whether within or without its borders. As Sierra Madre's city attorney it may be said that Mr. Dodson spoke officially. It would be hard, we believe, to find a single citizen of Sierra Madre who could criticize our city attorney's statement as either hypocritical or unsubstantiated by this community's past record.

A certain question has arisen as to the justice of our southern boundary line, a line that now lies along the southern edge of Orange Grove avenue. South of this line fine homes are being built by citizens who would be regarded as desirable acquisitions by any community. Yet these new residents and highly desirable neighbors are wholly dependent, not on the municipality where they nominally are to live and actually pay their taxes, but on Sierra Madre, for such vital services as water, lights, fire and police protection, and the very street by which they gain access to their property.

Lately this anomalous situation has been aggravated by the alienation of a further large area which many regard as rightly Sierra Madre's own; where, to all appearance, the same strange call will be made upon Sierra Madre's services by those who come to live there. Yet, as Mr. Dodson so rightly put it, nothing is further from Sierra Madre's purpose than to hamper or embarrass anyone, certainly not those whom we greet, heartily, with the utmost goodwill as fellow-citizens if not of our own community at any rate of that larger community that embraces the entire superb area of the Sierra Madre foothills.

DOES HE PAY TAXES?

"Ask the average citizen who lives in rented rooms, owns no taxable property and has an income not up to the tax brackets—ask him how it feels to be a taxpayer, and he will say he doesn't know because he doesn't pay any taxes."

"Oh, no! He isn't a taxpayer—not much! Lessee: "If he smokes a pack of coffin nails a day, he pays $18 a year tax. If he drives a car he pays a license plus 40 cents out of every 10 gallons of gas, or about $25 a year. Of his yearly light, gas and phone bills, $10 more goes in taxes. A fifth of every dollar he pays in rent of his bedroom is tax money; with most men $120 a year or more. His year's sales, theatre and other taxes total $30 or more."

"So! Our 'tax exempt' citizen is paying more than $200 a year—about $4 a week—in taxes. Because most of us feel we are not paying too much tax, we let our government go on profligate spending sprees. In 1934 State Treasurer Gus Johnson wanted the authorities they would bankrupt the State of California if they didn't halt unnecessary waste. The California State local and national debts, actual and authorized, on June 30 of that year totalled nearly $3,500,000,000 or 57% of the assessed valuation of all the land, buildings and other property subject to tax in the State."

"And yet some folks wonder why The Journal has hammered so much on the one nail head of the reckless Roosevelt spending of two dollars for every one he takes in for our National income!"

TWO STATE PICNICS

Missourians in Southern California will hold a mammoth picnic reunion all day Sunday, March 29th, at Bixby Park, Long Beach. From 10 a.m. until night fall there will be entertainment provided by Missourians in the form of an old fiddle's contest, South Missouri barn dance, hill billies from the Ozarks singing and dancing and a little touch of Missouri oratory.

All who ever lived in Nebraska are called to meet under the auspices of the Nebraska Association of Southern California for the great picnic reunion, all day, Saturday March 28th, in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles.

WOODLAND DRIVE BRIDGE TO GET NEW FLOORING

Work on the installation of a new flooring on the upper bridge on Woodland Drive, in Sierra Madre canyon, got under way this week.

The... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

WE belong to that category of true Californians who are here by choice and not simply by the accident of birth; and yet who have still and forever something of the ineradicable tourist about them—the gift of wonder, the desire to see more and more and learn more and more about this State they love so well. So hardly a week goes by, it seems, but that someone tells us something about California we'd never heard of before—like that restaurant up the State somewhere made famous by its split-pea soup. Truckmen, millionaires, and everyone, stopping there just for a plate of that incomparable split-pea soup.

WHICH carries us back to some of the specialty restaurants in Paris we used to know so well—when we were still deeply interested in food. The Tour d'Argent, for example, world-famous for its ducks. There they used to bring in the duck half-raw and carve it before your eyes. The stripped carcass was then squeezed of its juices. It was these juices, enriched with wine and chopped giblets, that the breast was then cooked in a chafing-dish, for 20 minutes. And what an appetizer, those whiffs you got, while the breast was cooking.

BUT personally we preferred the legs, although for some reason in the old days we were ashamed to confess it. The legs were grilled in the kitchen, before a fire the only fuel for which was wood cut from grapevines. It may have been the fuel, but those golden nuggets of what had once been duck-legs had a flavor—a flavor that always made us feel, somehow, like the great god Pan. Or, at least, like Debussy's celebrated Faun.

AND speaking of grapevines, we remember too that other famous restaurant, this one close to the Paris markets, near the rue du Louvre, where the old Paris Edition of the New York Herald used to be published—a restaurant called L'Escargot, which is French for "The Snail." And—you've guessed it—snails were the specialty of this place. French barons and their ladies, and Russian grand dukes, and market roustabouts, and newspapermen, all there to eat snails. Well, these snails came from Burgundy, where they'd fed exclusively on grapevine leaves.

THE snails were about the size of a small walnut when they were considered ready for the market. Then they spent a period in close confinement—purge, as one might say; after which they were parboiled, then roasted, together with a special garnishment mostly of butter and garlic. They came to the table sizzling, in their shells, each shell nestled in the hollow of a special plate. Good! But the eating of them also strikes us now as vaguely pagan.

IN fact, we don't believe we'd care for snails anymore at all—not even if the original Escargot restaurant itself were right at our door instead of Henry's Coffee Shop. The truth is, we've been seeing rather overmuch of snails these latter days—snails in the raw. Yet our Sierra Madre snails look like those of Burgundy. And they must be even better to eat. For, ordinarily, they browse not on mere grapevine leaves; they live on the choicest flowers. Pinks and carnations, golden-bleam nasturtiums, tritomas and gerberas—these are just a few of their favorites. So we've stopped liking snails, gastronomically and otherwise.

WHAT capped our aversion was a discovery we made the other night. And stop reading this if you're squeamish. But after dark the other evening we happened to step on a brace of snails in a garden path. We got to thinking about this a couple of hours later, for we'd been putting a lot of snail-poison around; so we took a light and went out to investigate. Well, by that time, the scene of the accident had become a snail rendezvous and those snails were having a feast. We don't know what stunned us most, the nature of the feast or the attitude of the feasters themselves. For they were cannibals, yet so complacent, so dignified; one might almost say, so well-bred. Not gluttons, but gourmets. All their movements were graceful and poised. They were savoring a luxury, yet as gentlemen should—as a perfect right, without hilarity or vulgar excitement, quite as a matter of course.

AND it reminded us somehow we didn't know right off just what—of something vaguely remembered. Then we knew—it reminded us of the barons and the grand dukes also eating snails, long ago, near the Central Markets in Paris; yes, and also of those other grand people eating duck at the Tour d'Argent.

LYLE HALLS BICYCLE COLLIDES WITH AN AUTO

Lyle Hall, 16, of 43 Windsor Lane, Tuesday collided with an automobile near the Pasadena car barns on north Fair Oaks avenue while riding a bicycle. Thrown from his machine, young Hall was treated at the Pasadena Emergency Hospital for injuries to his left wrist and elbow.

The Sierra Madre Juniors are sponsoring a Reciprocity Tea and Fashion Show won Sunday, March 29 at 3:30 p.m. in honor of Mrs. J. H. Robertson, State Advisor to Juniors. The affair promises to be quite elaborate; and is undergoing a great deal of polishing and planning.

The "Roberta Shoppe" of Sierra Madre will feature the latest spring gowns, including semi-formals, formals, street and sport dresses. As an added attraction, "Roberta" is offering a five dollar merchandise order to the winner of a contest.

Those who will model are: Barbara Hollingsworth, Genelle Paschall, Ruth Klunk, Cricket Calkin, Evelyn Solury, Angelina Per Lee, Grace Allen, Alice LaVea, June Lacey, Cynthia Hull, Martha Sharp, Martha Tiller, Marion Daily, Dorothy Walsworth and Jane Holland.

Mrs. Madeline Smith will be in charge of decorations and Margery Ashmore of refreshments.

GUESTS FROM WIDE AREA AT STORK SHOWER

Mrs. S. Petzel, 461 Sturtevant Drive, entertained on Monday afternoon with a stork shower honoring her niece, Mrs. Charles LeVa, of 498 Woodland Drive.

Following an afternoon of games appropriate to the occasion, the honor guest was presented with a pink baby bathtub tied with ribbons and loaded with gifts. A pink, white and blue motif was used in refreshments served by the hostess at 4 o'clock from a table centered with a large stork in a garden of sweet peas. Favors were pink crepe paper baby shoes. The afternoon ended with a trip to the Wistaria Vine on Scenic Point.

Those present besides the hostess and guest of honor were Mrs. Bessie Strickland, mother of the honor guest; Mmes. Mary Woods and Vernon Kile, of Long Beach; Mrs. Don Shotliff and small daughter Barbara Dee, San Pedro; Mrs. Frank Forrester, Westwood; Mrs. George Kosteletzky, Glendale; Mmes. Ben Petzel and Ida Marqued, Los Angeles; Mrs. Don Townsley and Misses Eleanor Fowles and Evelyn Olsen of Pasadena; Mrs. Dennis Dempsey, Mrs. Alfred J. Dewey, Jr., and Miss Porraine Petzel of this city. Prize winners at games were Mmes. Dewey, Kosteletzky and Marqued.

THREE HONORED AT ONE BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

Mrs. G. B. Morridge of W. Orange Grove avenue was one of three who was honored at a joint birthday celebration last Sunday. Miss Clara Ingham of Monrovia and Mrs. H. Edward Mills of Pasadena were the other guests whose birthdays fell within the same week.

A picnic dinner in the Fern Dell, Griffith Park, followed by a trip to the Planetarium comprised the afternoon's diversion. A musical evening at the home of Miss Vera Bartow in Beverly Hills completed the celebration.

The party included, besides the three honor guests, Mrs. Hortense Hill and her brother, Mr. T. E. Peterson, of Colorado, the entire Morridge family; H. Edward Mills and Harlow John Mills, Miss Moreland Kortkamp, Mrs. Homer Glidden and Mr. and Mrs. Soren Frankland and son, of Hollywood.

BILLHEIMER HOME SCENE OF DOUBLE SOCIAL EVENT—
The J. S. Billheimer home at 100 east Highland avenue provided the background for a joint festivity on Wednesday evening when a miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Miss Hazel Nelson of Monrovia, whose forthcoming marriage to Walter Lyon of San Diego will be solemnized on Sunday by the uncle of the bride-to-be, Rev. F. H. Shaul of the Christian Church, Monrovia, together with a party honoring the choir of the Christian Church of Monrovia. Appropriate decorations in keeping with the season were artistically employed. The honoree was the recipient of many luxurious gifts.

Members of the Choir included in their practise, a number of beautiful songs fitting to the occasion. About forty guests were present.

Honoring Everett Hinojos on his twenty-first birthday, 25 guests were entertained by his mother, Mrs. E. Hinojos at a birthday dinner Sunday evening at the family home, 249 Grove street. Pink and white sweet peas formed the color scheme, and the usual birthday cake with candles was of the same motif. Everett was the recipient of many lovely gifts, and after dinner, the group was entertained by two small children, who gave a series of Spanish dances.

Lamanda Park and Altadena have turned to Sierra Madre for a column conductor in their weekly newspapers. The column, called "Peaks and Peeks" and promising to be spiced with occasional piques, is devoted primarily to views and reviews of books, news of the literary world and allied fields and occasional previews of pictures. The columnist is Ralph Cheyney, who has contributed to this newspaper and to hundreds of other periodicals and who once conducted a column syndicated in 40 journals. The column, which will appear weekly, started in the March 13th issue of "The Lamanda Park Herald" and the March 12th issue of "The Altadena Press."

RAZ FILM MAKERS AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Hollywood and its film makers go for a long and laughable "ride" in the new Benn Levy and John van Druten comedy "Hollywood Holiday," scheduled for its first American showing at the Pasadena Community Playhouse for two weeks beginning Tuesday, March 24.

Not since the memorable "Once in a Lifetime" has a play so thoroughly satirized the motion picture industry and advance reports indicate that "Hollywood Holiday" will take its place beside that famous play in the laugh provoker lists.

ROCK WOOL BLOWN INTO WALLS MAKES COMFORTABLE HOMES

Testing Force of Compressed Air Blower before Insulating Walls of Pasadena Home with Rock Wool.

BELIEVING that the control of temperature in homes through wall and ceiling insulation is the next wide-spread home improvement development, John W. Lytle, well-known Johns-Manville building material distributor and roofing contractor of Pasadena, has just made a contract with Johns-Manville for the exclusive distribution of Rock Wool in the San Gabriel Valley and adjoining foothill area.

"In the past," Mr. Lytle explained to a representative of this paper, "builders have not realized how much home comfort depends on temperature. In hot weather we all want a home that stays comfortably cool all day, pleasant meals in a cool dining room, and bedrooms cool enough for restful sleep. In cold weather we want a house that is easy to heat, that is free from unhealthy drafts, and has an even temperature, upstairs and down."

"Through the use of Rock Wool insulation in the ceilings and walls of homes, it is now practicable to maintain an interior temperature up to fifteen degrees cooler than on the outside, even on the hottest days, and to so control heat leakage in winter that homes will be far warmer and thirty percent cheaper to heat."

"This is accomplished," continued Mr. Lytle, "by applying to houses the same principles of insulation that keep the water in a storage heater hot and the food in an electric refrigerator cold. We blow Rock Wool into the hollow walls of a house, and between the ceiling joists, stopping the leaks that let heat into a home from the outside during the summer, and that let it escape to the outside during the winter."

"The fluffy Rock Wool is blown by compressed air through a large hose into every nook and cranny of the walls. In the accompanying picture, taken while a Pasadena bungalow was being insulated, the hose is being directed into the air to reveal the high pressure under which the insulation is injected.

All work is done from the outside. There is no noise, dust, dirt

Tells Employers Affected By State's New Insurance Law

Because of the confusion in the minds of some employers and employees about the provisions of the State Unemployment Act, Assemblyman Frank G. Martin of Altadena, asked the State Unemployment Reserves Commission for a direct, clear ruling on the law as effecting employers of a small number of persons. Mr. Martin has the following letter interpreting this act, from Carl L. Hyde, executive secretary-director of the Unemployment Reserves Commission: "This will acknowledge your letter of February 12, 1936, in which you question the status of an employer having less than eight persons in his employ, under the provisions of the California Unemployment Reserves Act."

"We beg to advise that deductions shall be made from wages received by employees in borderline cases—that is, where an employer has six or seven employees, but based on his past employment record, will have eight or more employees on some 20 days during the calendar year each day being in a different calendar week. However, if the past employment record shows that the employer will not have eight employees as set forth in the act, no contribution need be made by the employer of employees."

Kiwanians Hear Tales By Goodsell

Englishmen or Americans. His major interest in life today is to abolish the caste system utterly; and in this interest his foremost concern remains the Untouchables."

Incidentally, the word "Untouchable" is one banished by Gandhi from his vocabulary. For it he has substituted a native word meaning "the Children of God."

While the riches of South Africa, Dr. Goodsell said, have brought about the happy result that there is no depression there in the American sense, still there is a very insistent native question for which the government seeks an answer. The old Zulu culture of the breech-clout and the knob-korrie (war-club) is passing. The natives are turning to the white man's ways. Yet the white man neglects no measure to insure his own sovereignty.

There was an official photographer on the plane that carried Dr. Goodsell from South Africa to Cairo—British territory all the way and with landings nicely timed for tea; and the photographer's presence may have been responsible for the way the pilots kept their ship at low altitudes while traversing the vast hunting grounds and game preserves of Central Africa.

"We flew so low at times," the speaker said, "that honestly I was afraid that we'd scrape the hide off an elephant's back."

Besides the huge herd of elephants—seen in the swamps of the upper Nile—an abundance of other game was seen; to such an extent that vast areas of wild country appeared to be rather the stable-yard of some colossal farm.

The trip by regular passenger plane from "Cape to Cairo" takes six days. The sea voyage Dr. Goodsell originally planned would have taken five times that long.

The excellence of the air service over Africa and Asia, linking these countries so closely to Europe, the speaker implied, would have an important bearing on the world in every way—socially, politically, and economically.

"We Americans," he said, "are apt to look on these Oriental cities as somewhat backward and rundown. As a matter of fact Bombay is now a city like Chicago, and almost as large, with vast manufacturing plants and all modern improvements."

Lucia Trent Picks Best Poem Written By Literary Women

Sierra Madre and its sister city, Arcadia, were represented at the annual banquet of the Women's Press Club of Southern California on Friday, March 13th (which proved a lucky date for those present), at the Friday Morning Club, Los Angeles, by a poetry judge and a main speaker respectively. The Sierra Madrean was Lucia Trent, the Arcadian, Harlan Ware.

Lucia Trent was accompanied by her husband, Ralph Cheyney. She served with Raine Bennett, "the poet of the air," and Edward Lynne, radio script writer, in selecting the best poems submitted anonymously by members of this leading organization of literary women, and was introduced to the assembly by Mrs. Ethelwyn Tyson Gaw. The couple of hundred diners included such celebrities as Carrie Jacobs Bond, William A. Brady, "Peg of Los Angeles," Mary Kincaid, and a bevy of novelists, dramatists, newspaper women and other literary lights. Mr. Ware spoke wittily of the sincerity with which movie script writers toil to make their stories convincing and their characters real folk.

COMING CONCERT CLAIMS ATTENTION

In the midst of so many worthwhile musical events which are daily happening both here and in the surrounding cities, attention is being called to the Young Peoples' Concert slated for Wednesday, April 8th at 10:30 a.m., at the Philharmonic Auditorium in Los Angeles. Mrs. M. R. Englander of Sierra Madre, who is Chairman of the San Gabriel Valley Auxiliary of the Philharmonic Continuation Fund, is a member of the Board and of the Woman's Committee of that body, announces that any woman is eligible to become a member of this board provided she is a subscriber either to the Hollywood Bowl concerts or the Philharmonic Symphony. She will be glad to take these memberships, which, of course, will further the interests of those two institutions. Aside from the musical aspect, there are many social advantages to be gained from becoming a member of this board.

Girls of Long Ago In Old Fashioned Fashion Show Here

ding gown 108 years old which belonged to the Canadian grandmother of Stella Dennison and George Norris, and which was worn by Mrs. Lorne Adwell.

Who does not remember the Bicycle Girl of the gay 90's? She was a necessary accessory of our town in those days, they tell me, because there were no dry goods stores in Sierra Madre and if a lady wanted a pair of shoes she had to jump on her trusty bike and bowl over the roads to the Crown City. This part was taken by Mrs. Ethel Myers.

Next came the automobile girl; ah, but not the girl you are thinking of. This was the girl of the linen duster and long flowing veil, you know? Mrs. Hazel Spoelstra essayed this role to the tune of "Lucille, Come with Me in My Merry Oldsmobile."

Then there was the Party Girl of the early days taken by Mrs. Loveta Pratt. Going to a party was an arduous task in the 90's, for milady had to travel dusty roads. Consequently she had to carry her slippers in a silken bag. Mrs. Pratt made an unforgettable picture in her filmy black grenadine gown which swished fascinatingly in voluminous folds.

The Church Girl in her one and only silk dress was portrayed by Mrs. Elva Layton, who was charming in a beautiful brown corded silk that was the wedding dress of the mother of Mrs. Conners Twycross.

The Business Girl was portrayed by Mrs. Florence Preston; the Home Girl by Mrs. Orelia Stinman to the air of "Home Sweet Home." And the Ladies' Aider, Oh, the Ladies' Aider, wasn't she a type, though? Mrs. Mertie Hartman appeared in this part.

The Missionary Lady was Mrs. Peggy Babbitt; and the Opera Girl, who did not think the word jazz would ever cross her lips, sang "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." Mrs. Marion Pendergast was the replica of this type.

The School Teacher, who did not mind ruling with the horse-whip, (what were a few lashes more or less?), and never dreamed of such a thing as marcelled locks or lovely colorful sport dresses, was delightfully enacted by Miss Minnie Stinman. She was cute as anything, though, Miss Stinman, we mean. The Sweet Girl Graduate was Margaret Schwartz in one of those flounced, sweet white dresses.

Mrs. Luella Walsworth was the Afternoon Miss who belonged to the Eleven and One Club. They sewed one week and had a social time the next.

The older ladies gave "Historical Flashes" after the foregoing. Mrs. Leila Embree was at the piano for the Fashion Show. And Mrs. May Barlow sang two selections accompanied by Miss Moreland Kortkamp.

So ended a day that will be long remembered in the annals of the Congregational Church of Sierra Madre.

Expect Over 6,000 At C.E. Convention

Padena division of Christian Endeavorers holds its annual pre-convention booster banquet in the First Baptist church, Pasadena, at 7:30 p.m. tonight. Merrill Smith, division president, urges all to come out and catch the spirit of "conventionitis."

Leap year or no leap year, only two girls captured the offices in the recent election held by the Intermediate society. Ed Delong is to be installed as president, with the following assistants: John Coit, vice-president; Frances Hudson, secretary; Dave Sheriff, treasurer; Chuck Taylor, lookout chairman; Mary Coit, prayer-meeting chairman; James McAndrew, missionary chairman, and Buddy Walsworth, social chairman. The two other societies will hold their elections soon.

Six thousand young people are expected to assemble for the convention in Long Beach May 1, 2 and 3. The pre-registration campaign for this convention is on. Over a third of Pasadena division's goal of 178 has been reached with Sierra Madre contributing 17 to date. Those who have registered are Sam Hohri, Ben Smith, Merrill Smith, Roger Ackley, Bruce Smith, Janet Murray, Kathleen Moore, Dorothy Moore, Enid Murray, Bob Coit, A. forests within easy motoring distance from Sierra Madre, anglers particularly regard him as their friend.

One angler, speaking of Mr. Johnson to the Forum management recently, referred to him as one of the greatest authorities on fresh-water gamefish in the United States.

His talk, it is understood, while replete with technical interest to all sportsmen and campers, will be one to appeal to all lovers of "the great out-of-doors."

The Forum session is scheduled for 7:45 p.m., and the public is urged to be there on time.

Loan Associations Advance $10,000,000 Towards New Homes

Effect of the government's plan to encourage thrift and home building is contained in a bulletin just issued at Washington which shows that in January more than 31,000 persons joined the ranks of those investing in Federal Savings and Loan Associations, bringing total private investors in these associations to 466,683 and that these associations loaned $9,319,000 for new home construction during that month.

The bulletin was released locally yesterday by H. F. Dunton, secretary-manager of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Altadena, one of the associations included in the National survey.

"This sum for new home construction is sufficient to erect 1,650 homes with an average loan of $3,500," said Mr. Dunton. "It is gratifying to note in the bulletin that 511 additional associations were formed throughout the country in January and that new investments increased the total private investment in Federal associations by 7 per cent. The rate of growth has been such as to double the number of investors in associations in a year. This growth is due largely to the insurance of saving up to $5,000 against loss offered by these associations, the careful supervision over their activities by agencies of the Federal government and to the fact that funds of investors are loaned for home building in the neighborhood of the association where investors themselves are familiar with property values and residential trends."

MRS. MARKS PASSING BRINGS SORROW HERE

The unexpected passing of Mrs. Carol Marks, First Department President of the American Legion Auxiliary of California, who died on Tuesday of this week, was received with deep and sincere regret in Sierra Madre where she had many friends.

She was vice-president of the Order of the Purple Heart, and up until a day or two ago was active in her work. At the time of her death she resided at 1745 West 23rd street in Los Angeles, and was 58 years old.

IN YOUR GARDEN

PROPER FEEDING MEANS SUCCESS IN THE GARDEN

LIKE all other living things, plants need food, and will thrive only when well supplied with the necessary food elements. Amazing results have been obtained by scientists who determined just what plants needed, and just how to give it to them. Unfortunately, the why and what of it is not as clear to most gardeners as it should be, and they are likely to get advice from so many sources and of such varying kinds, that they are often confused.

There is one method of plant feeding that is preferred by a majority of successful gardeners. It has several advantages over other methods, the most important of which are its simplicity, and its positive results. The scientific way of feeding plants is gaining in preference steadily over the pet methods of individuals which call for a handful of this and a handful of that and a pinch of something else if conditions seem to warrant.

Just as cookery experts have abandoned the old guesswork method in favor of exact recipes which give known results, so gardeners are turning to scientific plant feeding with complete, balanced plant food. Today, anyone can be sure that they are supplying their garden friends with all of the plant food elements they need for greater beauty. No longer worry that bacterial action in the soil will not be quick enough to make the organics (manures and bone meal) available when the plants need food most. Even more important, automatic release of large quantities of plant food at a time detrimental to plants is no longer a problem. The use of modern, complete

Here is the new way of feeding plants which gives such sure results:

1—Don't overfeed plants. Four pounds of complete plant food for 100 square feet of lawn or garden area is the right amount to use in spring. More is wasteful and sometimes harmful.

2—In feeding established lawns be sure the grass is dry—not damp from dew or rain. As soon as the grass is dry in the morning is the best time to apply plant food to the established lawn.

3—Always mix the plant food thoroughly with the top few inches of soil before seeding a lawn or garden. It is advisable, but not necessary, to wait a day before planting.

5—Keep the plant food off stalks and stems of established plants. If some gets on plants, just wash off with water.

5—Read the directions which

Woman's Club Notes

By Mildred Curtis Boims

WEDNESDAY, March 25th is the date of another annual "at Home," or Reciprocity Day at the Sierra Madre Woman's Club. And it is going to be a big day too, for Mrs. Fletcher White, the presiding genius and her various committees have expended much thought upon the occasion. Many unusual little helpful gestures toward making the guests feel at ease are being incorporated into the program.

I do not have all of the names at this writing, but I know Mrs. Mabel J. Thayer will be the reception chairman, Mrs. W. S. Hull will be in charge of stage decoration; Mrs. A. E. Pulling will head the hostess committee and Miss Florence Gilmore will be responsible for dining room decoration. Other names will be given later.

All resident artists will be invited personally by Mrs. White, irrespective of where they ply their art. Also, presidents of the neighboring towns, besides Los Angeles. The program has been

Arcadians Scent Buncome In Ross Field Playground

Following news from the WPA offices that Ross Field, originally scheduled to have 952 men on the job now, working in double shifts through the day, has exactly 112 men working and will never have more than 200, the Arcadia Tribune queries, "Is the regional recreational center planned for Ross Field to be a white elephant?"

The Tribune points out the crying need for equipment to replace the 752 men who will never set foot on the 185 acre tract. Officials and engineers overseeing the project have made requisitions to the powers that be seeking the equipment needed.

"Thus far," says The Tribune, they "have got no place fast."

arranged with the interests of the guests at heart.

Mrs. O. B. Manchester will give "Highlights on Current Affairs," and Mrs. C. A. Allen will read "The Happy Prince" by Oscar Wilde.

A musical program will be given by Miss Cynthia Hull and Gustave Rihard.

Remember the time is changed Angeles. The program has been

Stockholders Hold Meeting Over The Air

Twelve Widely Separated Edison Units Will Hear Big Issues Discussed

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Southern California Edison Company, Ltd., to be held today, this year will be again brought to the stockholders by wired radio, using the company's privately-owned telephone system as a transmission network.

Twelve broadcast-linked meetings will be held simultaneously, bringing to stockholders gathered at convenient geographic locations the entire proceedings of the annual meeting at Los Angeles where Harry J. Bauer, president of the company, will present his annual report. The great interest manifested by stockholders last year, as shown by their attendance at a similar meeting, together with the interest being taken by the stockholders in company affairs, prompted the management to again arrange this unique means of bringing to the stockholders the annual meeting.

The meeting of stockholders in this area will be held at Civic Auditorium, Green and Garfield streets, Pasadena, beginning at 11:45 o'clock this morning. Following the custom inaugurated last year, the addresses and other business of the general meeting in Los Angeles will be heard at each of 12 receiving points through the audio system of radio broadcast receivers by means of phonograph pickup facilities. The program at Los Angeles, originating in the auditorium of the Edison Building at 5th street and Grand avenue, will be carried over Edison communication system lines to each of the receiving points where the meetings of stockholders are being held.

Talks by Edison officials will include a discussion of taxes, the Boulder Dam power supply in relation to the company, and other subjects bearing upon the future prospects of the company.

P.E. EXTENDS FARE ZONE ON BUS LINE

Extension of the limit of the second fare zone on the East Colorado street bus line of the Pacific Electric Co. to El Nido street, approximately 100 feet from the east Pasadena line, became effective on Sunday.

Prior to Sunday, the second fare zone stopped at Daisy avenue, the end of the former street car line. It was not advanced to the east city limits when the East Colorado street bus line was placed in service. H. O. Marler, passenger traffic manager for the P.E., states a check will be made of travel on the coach line to determine whether or not an increase in service will be justified on the East Colorado street line.

Everetts Find Old Fashioned Winter Weather In Florida

Sierra Madre has quite a large coterie of glob-trotting citizens, as you well know. And when they "receive" a loan from God; and do down to the sea in ships," as our poet laureate so aptly expresses it, it seems mighty nice to hear from them once in a blue moon.

A letter has just been received from Capt. E. G. and Mrs. Everett from Orlando, Florida, where they have been making an extended stay. Friends will be glad to hear that they are turning their faces northward with the idea of gradually wending their way California-ward.

We are so glad that a moot subject has been partially taken care of, too; namely, that they really do have winter in that Elysian state. To quote from Capt. Everett's letter: "We have run into the worst winter Florida has had in over twenty years."

Now we all know Captain Everett is a good member of the Congregational Church of Sierra Madre and that this was no idle remark.

They have kept in close touch with the necessities of our town (via the SIERRA MADRE NEWS) ever since their departure, reading it from "kiver to kiver," as the Captain jocularly remarked.

Eastern Star Has Dessert Bridge On Monday Evening

An interesting session of the local Eastern Star Chapter was followed last Monday evening by adjournment to the banquet hall where refreshments were served and Nina Kellogg Norris gave a group of whistling solos.

The hostesses who presided over the lavishly-decorated tables were Mrs. Leila Hosford and Mrs. Alice Kehlet. Refreshments proved as inviting as the pink and white color scheme set off by pink sweet peas.

Try not to have an engagement for Monday, March 23rd, for that is the day of the Dessert Bridge and Fashion Show at the Masonic Temple. The ladies have been working very hard on this affair; and they would appreciate a large turnout.

HELPS LONG BEACH BAND CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Among the hundreds of admirers who paid tribute to the Long Beach Municipal Band on the occasion of its 27th anniversary, which was celebrated on Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Davis and son, Curtis, of 71 East Alegria avenue. Curtis Jr.'s teacher, Floyd Hoose, received an ovation. Curtis occupies no small position in the Bulldog Band of Pasadena Junior College.

Britain To Publish Lee Shippey's Book

"Where Nothing Ever Happens," Lee Shippey's now-famous book about "Ourville," is going to be published in England. George Harrap & Co., Ltd., of London, have purchased the English publishing rights to "Where Nothing Ever Happens," and plan to bring out the John Bull edition within the next 90 days.

James Hilton, author of "Good Bye Mr. Chips," ran across a copy of Shippey's book recently, read it and recommended it to the English publishers. For months after its publication it was an American best seller.

JUNIOR PLAYERS IN COMPETITION TODAY

When the gala presentation of "In the Florist's Shop," one of the five competitive plays being produced by five junior schools, is given at the Pasadena Community Playhouse today, Mrs. H. B. Hersey, president of the Woodrow Wilson P.T.A., and son Gale, will experience feelings of great satisfaction, for each one was instrumental in making the affair a success.

Mrs. Hersey has been lending a useful hand all through the rehearsals, toward the angle of decoration. And Gale is in the Wilson cast. These annual contests call forth the best talent; and, even if they do signify a lot of concentrated effort, the thespians and everyone concerned generally feel that they are worth the labor.

A huge cake was presented to the local legion at its meeting Monday evening by President Stinman of the Auxiliary in honor of the legion's birthday anniversary. The district meeting of the Auxiliary made a party impossible but the women not to be outdone by the conflicting dates, planned a surprise. Commander Lovejoy responded to the presentation speech thanking members of the Auxiliary for their thoughtfulness. There was not even a crumb left to say it was enjoyed by all.

AIR CONDITIONING IS BUILDERS TOPIC

Motion pictures showing the installation of air-conditioning plants in residences and office buildings will be a feature of the Builders' Forum at the City Hall, Monday, March 23, at 7:30 p.m. There will also be a talk by a representative of an iceless refrigerator company. The public is cordially invited.

Fire Flames

By One of the Boys
THE Chief was determined that only one man would speak at a time at our Friday meeting and when more than one voice was heard, his gavel promptly went into action. He also emphasized his determination by going most of the speaking himself. This, we must admit, is an improvement in the fire department. There have been times at our meetings, when it sounded like a flock of geese flying north in a fog.

Just when we had begun to feel relaxed and to think that soon the Wistaria Fete would be over with, the Chief sprung a new idea for the future. Some of us were in favor of it and some were not; so we can be assured of a good time at the next meeting even though the Wistaria Fete may no longer be on our slate for discussion.

No matter how serious our meetings may be prior to the collection of fines, we can always be assured of a hearty laugh when "Louie" Karger brings in his receipt and looks over the aggregation. Louie has been the "official" fine collector of the department for several years. No other member could fill the job as he does. With his natural jovial manner he can collect fines from the men and make them like it.

Mt Wilson Road May Be Improved With Funds From WPA

Designation of the now-abandoned Mt. Wilson toll road as one of California's historical landmarks was proposed last week by Supervisor John A. Ford.

"In the days of the horse and buggy, the Mt. Wilson toll road was one of the outstanding mountain drives in the United States," the supervisor declared. "It was used to haul the famous Mt. Wilson Observatory equipment and has played a prominent part in the progress of our country. I feel we supervisors should ask the State Park Commission to have its landmark committee consider the road for permanent designation."

Other supervisors said they would support Ford in his proposal. Meanwhile, the board is considering filling a WPA application for eventual improvement of the road so that it might be opened for public use as far as Henninger Flats where the county forestry department has an extensive nursery.

Lasting Memories Brought Home From Tour Of The Nation

Mrs. Minnie Milner Johnson and daughter, Lucille of 619 West Montecito avenue returned home Tuesday from their journey to the Atlantic seaboard, begun before the holidays.

They were guests at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D. C. when the President's Ball was held. The gorgeous gowns worn by the elite of the nation's capital, will always be a pleasant memory in their minds. Their visit to "America's Civic Center" in Washington, to the House of Representatives, and the Senate, likewise, left an indelible impression.

Not to mention of shrines of Mt. Vernon, Arlington, and Alexandria.

At Memphis they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Brinkley Snowden. In Texas, Mrs. Johnson visited her son for several days.

Eight Camp Grounds In Mountains Here Ready For Season

With eight camp grounds in Big Santa Anita Canyon between Chantry Flats and Sturtevant Camp in shape for the summer season, the U. S. Forest Service expects an influx of campers and picnickers in this area, according to Major J. P. Kaye, district forest ranger.

Work was started this week on the beautification of the camp grounds at Chantry Flats, he reported. Boys from the Monrovia Canyon CCC camp will plant 1000 trees on the grounds. They have just finished planting 200 Monterey pines along the Clamshell trail.

TALE OF TWO CITIES AT ARCADIA THEATRE

Playing today and tomorrow at Gillette's Arcadia Theatre is "The Murder of Dr. Harrington," with Ricardo Cortez and Kay Linaker, and "We're Only Human," starring Preston Foster and June Wyatt. A Pathe News is also on the bill.

Opening Sunday, March 22, and playing through Wednesday, March 25, is the MGM opus, "A Tale of Two Cities," an imposing and engrossing photographic study of the French Revolution, with Ronald Colman, Elizabeth Allan, Edna May Oliver, Basil Rathbone and Blanche Yurka; and "Rose of the Rancho," which presents Gladys Swarthout in her cinematic debut, assisted by John Boles, Willie Howard, Herb Williams and Charles Bickford.

"Factory Method" Gives New Life, New Joy To Blankets

Commencing today the Royal Laundry brings to Sierra Madre, for the first time, the original "factory methods" of processing woolen blankets, according to H. A. Tubbs, president of the concern.

These methods are a radical departure from all others and the results obtained are almost amazing. All doubts in the home-manager's mind as to how her blankets will be returned may now be completely removed, for with every woolen blanket sent to the Royal an "unconditional written guarantee against shrinking, fading and felting" is issued by the driver.

Woolen blankets processed by the Royal are returned as clean, soft and fluffy as the day they left the store. Moth-proofing service, if desired, is also available. The Royal Laundry cordially invites all Sierra Madreans to honor it with a visit and to see the actual operations of these new methods of protecting blankets.

WASHINGTON GUESTS LEAVE RELUCTANTLY

Dr. and Mrs. Irving E. Miller, brother-in-law and sister of the Misses Clara and Ida Puenfsteck of 28 North Baldwin avenue left this week for their home in Bellingham, Washington, after a two month's visit here. The visitors were extensively feted during their sojourn in the Southland, and were loath to leave. Their son, Dr. Neal Miller, Ph. D., paid a visit here some time last year, and also enjoyed himself hugely.

Before the guests departed, a trip was taken down to San Diego to see the Exposition, with stops at Palm Springs and other points.

A.L.A. Activities

By Helen Lovejoy

STIRRING address by W. M. Steele, aviation expert serving on the Legion aeronautics committee, was the highlight of the 18th district gathering in South Pasadena Monday evening. Attending from this unit were Mesdames A. H. Embree, B. S. Stinman, G. R. Lovejoy, and visitors Mesdames E. Barlow, R. O. Shetter, and F. E. Shetter. Among the guests were National chaplain, Mrs. J. R. McHaffey of Oahu, T. H.; Pauline Ellison, department vice-president, and Ernestine Aylward, National chairman Area "E" Conference of Child Welfare.

Announcement was made that April 22nd is the date set for the Child Welfare Dessert Card party in San Dimas. A good attendance will make possible the replenishing of this fast fund. Eligibility in the A.L.A. was earned for you by some one near and dear to you, in no way may it be purchased. Protect yours by keeping your membership. Dues in by the 31st of this month will help your unit more than waiting longer.

Mrs. Schontz, nee Lee S. High, served as one of the hostesses at the last meeting after having been absent for some time. Congratulations and best wishes from the unit go out to Lee. Florence Jensen, our much loved secretary, has two of her youngsters laid up with poison oak.

Townsendites Charge Du Ponts With Financing Opposition To Their Plan

By Rev. W. H. Hannaford

A much larger attendance than usual marked a rousing meeting of the Townsend Club on Monday evening. Rev. Mr. Nation, pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church of Long Beach, was the guest speaker. He asked if there was real poverty in the United States, and proceeded to give evidence of its presence which were very convincing. He also dwelt on the increasing amount of crime, largely due to lack of employment, and said, "We shall have low wages, unemployment and crime until something like the Townsend Plan brings real recovery to our Nation's industries."

The radio address was by Tom Wallace, now in Washington. He told of the conditions there, where Congressmen are trying to dodge the issue by starting an investigation of the Townsend organization. It is evident that every political scheme will be used to avoid meeting the proposition fairly and in the open, he said. The "Liberty League," which is practically the DuPonts, is back of the opposition, he charged. That family, he said, financed the opposition to the 18th amendment and is largely responsible for its repeal. They of course oppose every move for peace as they are making millions out of their munitions business, he declared.

The Bulletin from national headquarters told of the recent cancellation of their insurance of the financial supporters, or officers of the Townsend body by the Bonding Company which had furnished bonds for Treasurers, etc. They offer no excuse; no hint of suspicion is raised any more than must naturally arise in some minds by the fact that such a body is ready to withdraw business from a great organization. Doubtless they have been influenced by congressional interests. They will have a hard time discouraging our leaders and us. Mr. Hannaford urged everyone to go to 20 South Baldwin avenue and "investigate" our new headquarters. Mrs. Fellows said they invite investigation, adding, "We demand it."

Church Fete For Jubilee One Week Off

Members and friends of the Congregational Church are eagerly anticipating the Golden Jubilee Dinner next Friday in the Church auditorium at 6:30 p.m. Judging from the sale of tickets, a capacity house can be expected, according to C. W. Jones, general chairman.

Sunday, March 22, is Church Day. The young people's celebration, under the supervision of Edwin Ward, Jr., is scheduled for 11 a.m. The pastor will give an object-talk on "Birthdays."

On Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock a reception will be held in the ladies' parlor with Miss Harriett Grant, chairman of the reception committee, in charge. A short program will follow and Rev. W. H. Hannaford will read a paper on Church History, followed by personal reminiscences by members and friends. An exhibit of former records and pictures is being prepared by Mrs. J. C. Dickson and her committee.

The Golden Jubilee Dinner will take place at 6:30 p.m. After dinner a musical program has been arranged under the direction of Mrs. Mae Barlow. The program follows:

Piano Solo, Miss Moreland Kortkamp, "Spanish Dance" Malaguena, Lecuona. Sextette, "In The Gloaming," "Sweetest Story Ever Told," Mrs. Blanche Shaw, Lovejoy, Buckingham, Bovard, Kortkamp, Miss Fuller.

Violin Solo, "Gypsy Airs," Miss Elizabeth Morgridge.

Solo, "Love's Old Sweet Song," Mrs. Mae Barlow.

many questions to be settled in the matter of Arcadia's latest extension regardless of the action of the supervisors.

"The tract in question," said Mr. Myers, "extending as it does from west of the Anita Baldwin home to Sierra Madre avenue is even more remote from the recently developed tract, east of Baldwin avenue, known as Santa Anita Oaks. Yet in the part of the latter subdivision fringing Orange Grove avenue for much of its extent, the Arcadia residents are even now dependent on Sierra Madre for water and other services. The new area, now annexed, will be even more dependent on Sierra Madre—unless Arcadia stands ready to vote an extensive bond issue to take care of this new area."

Asked if he thought that Arcadia citizens would favor such a bond issue, Mr. Myers did not care to be quoted. But he pointed out that Arcadia recently voted down a proposed bond for sewers—when sewers have become a pressing necessity in that territory.

In this connection, Mr. Myers called attention to the fact while Arcadia is coming to a point where not one but several large bond issues will be necessary there, Sierra Madre, on the other hand, has no such necessity confronting it. On the contrary, Sierra Madre is now paying off its bonded indebtedness at the rate of $17,000 a year, with no new bond issues in sight. And this, of course, will shortly lead to a sharp and welcome decline in the local tax rate.

Those who represented Sierra Madre at Hall of Justice, besides Mr. Myers and Mr. Dodson, were the Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard, president of the Kiwanis Club; Reverend Father Hyacinth Clarey, Mrs. Ruth Bovard, of the school board; Miss Thomasella H. Graham, Mrs. John H. Osgood of the City Planning Commission; Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, school principal; Milton Hollingsworth, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Dr. John L. Woehler, J. N. Hawks, Sam Graham, William Schwartz, Councilman William Lees and John Froehlich, Harvey Steinberger, Perley Poore Sheehan, Ed Ward and City Clerk Waverly Pratt.

Committees Named For An After Easter Party By Local PTA

The nominating committee for the next year was announced at Wednesday's meeting by Mrs. Boyd Keith, president of the Sierra Madre P.T.A. Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, Mrs. Ben Hinkley and Mrs. Marvin Weese were named on the committee.

The Association is planning a social affair in the form of a large bridge party to be held soon after Easter. Mrs. E. E. Hitchcock is chairman of the party committee, with Mrs. Gladys Albright, Mrs. Stanley Wood and all of the room mothers assisting.

Mrs. Lee Shippey, program chairman, presented Mrs. Ellen Cole Barker, school nurse, and her classes in nutrition and correction, at Wednesday's meeting, in a delightful health alphabet skit.

Walter Mangold, sanitation engineer for Los Angeles county, spoke in a very interesting manner on the various phases of work that come under the county inspectors department, and how they effect the lives of the average household. He named among other activities inspection of milk, water, sewage, disposal of food, meat, housing, insects and dumps. One of the interesting highlights to the mothers was the relative food value of milk, comparing the pasteurized with raw milk.

Thieves Invade Church As Women Attend Luncheon

Two daring daylight sneak-thieves Tuesday afternoon nonchalantly walked into the Congregational Church at Sierra Madre Blvd. and Hermosa avenue, took $1.50 from a purse left in the Sunday school room by Mrs. Roy Walsworth, of 90 East Montecito avenue, while she was participating in the Church Jubilee celebrations in another part of the building, and calmly walked out before the eyes of an unsuspecting witness seated in a nearby parked car.

According to police, Mrs. C. E. Holden, 213 Auburn avenue, who was sitting in a car parked across the street from the west entrance of the Church, saw two men enter the building through the west doors at 3:30 p.m. Ten minutes later the two men came out, walked south on Hermosa avenue for a short distance, and then crossed the street and disappeared in the city park where they were seen by J. C. Lauber, park caretaker.

Police are at a loss to explain why the thieves did not touch the many other purses in the room which were left there, along with articles of clothing.

Santa Fe Scores A Point In Battle With The Espee

The State Railroad Commission, in a ruling Monday in San Francisco, over-ruled the Southern Pacific company in a motion to dismiss an application of the Santa Fe Transportation Company for permission to co-ordinate its rail and bus service in California.

Southern Pacific attorneys indicated an appeal would be taken to the State Supreme Court.

HORTICULTURISTS VISIT FAMED ESTATE

The Garden Section of the Woman's Club were delightfully entertained last Saturday at the home of Mrs. W. J. Lawless. Bringing their own basket lunches, they were served coffee in the spacious living room of the hostess. Members of the California Horticultural Society were also guests, and at 3 o'clock the group visited "Italia Mia" gardens of Miss Thomasella H. Graham, which recently won the National garden contest.

YOUTH ATTACKS PARENT COMMITTED AS INSANE

Becoming mentally unbalanced, according to his mother's statement to police, Terrance Howland, son of Dr. Adele Howland, 225 North Lima street, Saturday evening attacked his father and then ran from the house stark naked. The boy was subsequently located and brought to the police station by his parents. His mother signed an insanity complaint and police took the youth to Los Angeles General Hospital.

WILSON 4-H CLUB IS PREPARING FOR FAIR

The boys are getting their entries ready for the 4-H Club fair, May 16. The Club hopes to win the cup for the third time. If they do, they can keep it permanently.

CEILING ZERO NOW AT LYRIC THEATRE

"Ceiling Zero," starring James Cagney, and "The Lady Consents," Ann Harding's latest release, are showing today and tomorrow at the Lyric Theatre in Monrovia.

Supporting James Cagney in "Ceiling Zero," the story of a bad boy of the air who finally gives his all to science, are Pat O'Brien, June Travis and Stuart Erwin. Directed with care and acted with vigor and individuality, the film is tense, melodramatic and conscientious. "The Lady Consents," is the story of a disrupted home. Miss Harding is, as usual, the best sport in the world, but she doesn't get anywhere until she turns tough.

March 24, comes "Riffraff," a tale of waterfront society that becomes entangled with Reds, motherhood and prison records, with Jean Harlow, Spencer Tracy, Joseph Calleia and Una Merkel; and "Her Master's Voice" with Edward Everett Horton as the familiar figure of the henpecked husband, surrounded by Peggy Conklin, Laura Hope Crews, Elizabeth Patterson and Grant Mitchell.

"NIGHT OPERATOR" IS HIT WITH MAGAZINE

Lucile Selk Edgerton, sister of Herman Selk, a NEWS composer, is author of the short story, "Night Operator," in the current issue of Liberty magazine.

One-time art critic, society editor and cartoonist on the Milwaukee Sentinel, Miss Selk has been a frequent visitor to Sierra Madre. Liberty magazine has asked Miss Selk for "first reading" on her next five stories.

John W. Lytle Crew Blowing J-M Rock Wool into Walls of Pasadena Home

Make Your Home Comfortable, too!

Through Summer's Heat and Winter's Cold

By following the example of this wise Pasadena home-owner, you, too, may enjoy ALL of the comforts of home instead of a few of them. He is insulating his Huntington Drive home against summer heat and winter cold with genuine JOHNS-MANVILLE Rock Wool, LYTLE-APPLIED.

During HOT WEATHER, your house will be up to 15 degrees cooler all day. You will enjoy pleasant meals in a cool dining room. You will find complete rest by sleeping in a bedroom that is at night, as it is all through the day, cool and refreshing.

In COLD WEATHER, your house will be easier, and up to 30 per cent cheaper, to heat.

You will have no "cold" or "hard-to-heat" rooms. Temperature will be even, upstairs and down, and free from unhealthy drafts.

Coming home is a delight—any day of the year—if your home is insulated. Today, most new homes are insulated. But it is easy and practicable to insulate old homes, too, as the above picture shows. Whether your home is old or new, for comfort's sake—insulate.

Home insulation is the only home improvement that costs nothing for operation, upkeep, or repairs. It cannot rot, rust, or deteriorate. The small initial cost may be paid conveniently in small monthly installments.

Get These Home Booklets FREE

Write or telephone today for our new booklet, "FAIR AND WARMER." It is profusely illustrated and explains in detail just what J-M insulation is, how it is applied, and the manner in which it will contribute to the comfort, health, and happiness of every member of your family—and your guests. And while they last, we will also send you free, at your request, the famous booklet illustrated at the left, "101 PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS FOR HOME IMPROVEMENTS." Any woman will treasure this booklet. It is filled with suggestions for increasing the comfort, beauty, and usefulness of every room in the house. Ask for these two booklets—TODAY—sure.

PROPER FEEDING MEANS SUCCESS IN THE GARDEN

LIKE all other living things, plants need food, and will thrive only when well supplied with the necessary food elements. Amazing results have been obtained by scientists who determined just what plants needed, and just how to give it to them. Unfortunately, the why and what of it is not as clear to most gardeners as it should be, and they are likely to get advice from so many sources and of such varying kinds, that they are often confused.

There is one method of plant feeding that is preferred by a majority of successful gardeners.
It has several advantages over other methods, the most important of which are its simplicity, and its positive results. The scientific way of feeding plants is gaining in preference steadily over the pet methods of individuals which call for a handful of this and a handful of that and a pinch of something else if conditions seem to warrant.

Just as cookery experts have abandoned the old guesswork method in favor of exact recipes which give known results, so gardeners are turning to scientific plant feeding with complete, balanced plant food. Today, anyone can be sure that they are supplying their garden friends with all of the plant food elements they need for greater beauty. No longer worry that bacterial action in the soil will not be quick enough to make the organics (manures and bone meal) available when the plants need food most. Even more important, automatic release of large quantities of plant food at a time detrimental to plants is no longer a problem. The use of modern, complete plant food gives the gardener complete control of his feeding problem.

Here is the new way of feeding plants which gives such sure results:

1—Don't overfeed plants. Four pounds of complete plant food for 100 square feet of lawn or garden area is the right amount to use in spring. More is wasteful and sometimes harmful.

2—In feeding established lawns be sure the grass is dry—not damp from dew or rain. As soon as the grass is dry in the morning is the best time to apply plant food to the established lawn.

3—Always mix the plant food thoroughly with the top few inches of soil before seeding a lawn or garden. It is advisable, but not necessary, to wait a day before planting.

4—Keep the plant food off stalks and stems of established plants. If some gets on plants, just wash off with water.

5—Read the directions which manufacturers furnish. The finer results that you will get from your garden from proper use of plant food warrants the little time necessary for a careful reading.
